BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA

Europe's Natural Wonder

Highlights of Bosnia and Herzegovina

Tour Duration: 7 days/6 nights

Group Size: 4 - 7 people

Season: April - November

Airfare Included: No

Tour Customizable: Yes

We don't like to rush guests from one hotel to the next so we spend 2 and 3 nights in Sarajevo and Mostar. This allows everyone more time to explore and gives a better feel for the way of life. We select accommodation based on location, quality and atmosphere. It's possible to add on a few days in front of the tour or at the end. Activities like rafting on Neretva river or hiking National Park Sutjeska. Just let us know your wishes.

1. - 2. day; Mostar

Transfer from Sarajevo airport to Mostar. Overnights in Mostar (two nights).

Perhaps most famous for its 16th century Old Bridge (Stari Most), Mostar is the cultural and political capital of Herzegovina. The heart of the old town, highlighted by the Stari Most and the turquoise Neretva River that flows below it, has been a magnet for tourists for many decades. This quaint Ottoman old quarter is a living tribute to the ingenuity and beauty of Ottoman architecture.

3. - 4. day; Jajce – Banja Luka

After breakfast drive Mostar – Jajce – Banja Luka. Overnight in Banja Luka (one night).

Visit BiH's second largest city Banja Luka and dine in the Castellum fort alongside the emerald green Vrbas River. It is the largest and most developed city and has traditionally been the center of the Bosanska Krajina region located in the northwestern part of the country. The city lies on the Vrbas River, one of the most beautiful mountain rivers, and is well-known as the city of greenery, namely it is full of tree-lined avenues, boulevards, gardens and parks.

Jajce best represents the multi-layered historical mosaic stemming back from pre-Roman times to Tito's Yugoslavia. This fortified hilltop town offers a fun-filled mélange of cultural and natural heritage. See the mysterious Roman era catacombs or walk the ancient city walls in the town centre.

The Pliva Lake just outside of Jajce is a famous fishing spot and a favorite water sports destination for kayaking, canoeing, swimming, or just enjoying the tranquility of the lake.

Note: On 4th day late afternoon drive from Banja Luka to Sarajevo.

5. – 6. day; Sarajevo

Overnights in Sarajevo (three nights).

Bosnia and Herzegovina's capital, Sarajevo. Visit the true crossroads where East meets West and enjoy one of Europe's loveliest and most interesting cities. Discover one of Europe's last medieval highland cultures tucked deep in the heart of the Dinaric Alps.

7. day

Transfer from hotel to Sarajevo international airport.

Price: from 820 € / per person *
For Single Supplement add 350 €

Price includes:

Media about us and Bosnia and Herzegovina

Bosnia & Herzegovina, That Unreal Place

Written by: Richard Bangs for Huffingtonpost (USA)

"... The best rafting in Europe is here. The World Rafting Championships were held here last year, and the Neretva and Una are among the most beautiful white-water rivers in the world. It has Europe's last remaining primary forest. "Bosnia begins with the forest," says a local proverb, and the Perucica primeval forest has survived with a sleight of logic. Sarajevo is the "Jerusalem of Europe." As you walk down Ferhadija to the old city you pass the Serb Orthodox church, the Catholic cathedral, the old Gazi-Husrev Bey Mosque, and a Sephardic synagogue, all within five minutes of each other. Bosnia has the biggest bird resort in Europe, the Hutovo Blato Nature Park. It is home to over 240 types of migratory birds and dozens that make their permanent home in the sub-Mediterranean wetlands surrounding Deransko Lake..."

Bosnia: a model for the planet

In many ways, the country has what the rest of Europe has lost

Written by Richard Bangs for Msnbc

"...The country described sometimes as the heart between the mouths of two lions, hosts one of the two greatest tracks of primeval forests in Europe, unmatched biodiversity, daunting mountain faces yet to be climbed, deep gorges yet to be traversed, wild rivers with water so pure you can cup your hand to drink, some of the highest concentrations of wildlife, and perhaps the last highland tribes of semi-nomadic peoples on the continent. In many ways, Bosnia today has what the rest of Europe has lost..."

A new look at Bosnia Herzegovina

Written by: Sophie Cooke for UK Guardian

"...Mostar itself was luminous in the lilac afternoon. The old town centre and the elegant bridge have been completely rebuilt since the 90s war, stone for stone as they stood before. We walked down lanes cobbled with round white pebbles like pearls, between houses with creamy walls and limestone roofs that caught the light from the sky and reflected it between tumbling vines and minarets so that the whole city seemed to shine..."

Surprisingly Refreshing

Written by Martha Steszl for Austrian Tip Online

"...An unexpected diversity of the small country opens up for day trips in the surrounding area. Only 25km from Sarajevo there are mountains above 2000 meters. Here are the Olympic Winter Games were held in 1984 and today the area for winter sports has been well developed. Beyond these mountains the fierce originality of the Balkans is revealed with virtually untouched nature. Mountains invite for hiking and deep gorges for canoeing. Lukomir village is a place where you will be transferred back centuries. Lukomir is located in the midst of this magnificent mountain scenery, so remote that not even the war took place here. Water is one of the main natural resources of Bosnia and Herzegovina as numerous rivers not only deliver crystal clear drinking water, but also attract water sports enthusiasts: Una, Tara, Vrbas, and especially the emerald Neretva river offer challenging routes for rafters..."
